Actionable Intelligence and Security Risk Assessments

In today's challenging and often complicated business environment, enterprises are required to identify key risk factors covering both physical and logical security. Information and analysis to ensure business continuity, supply chain obligations and a duty-of-care owed to valued employees is now part of business culture.

■ What We Do

We help organisations to identify and understand the risks to their business. We build business resilience by mitigating and governing those risks. When unforeseen events occur, we respond with dedicated support immediately. Our service offering spans an end-to-end range of integrated strategic consultancy, expert analysis, audit, political risk, security management, security operations, investigative, project management, travel risk management, digital tracking and monitoring, cyber security and crisis response services.

Our global 24/7 Assistance practice, retained by Lloyds of London insurers, is able to respond at any time, anywhere in the world, offering immediate dedicated support to manage crisis or unforeseen events.

■ Online Security Intelligence Services

Our Asset Risk Management platform provides users with secure access to a comprehensive database of global security incidents and events.

The system has been designed specifically for corporate security professionals and provides access to a global risk advisory and assessment tool via a secure web-based risk monitoring portal giving you can access to security and geo-political intelligence and analysis on current and future threats worldwide.

Our Advisory Services support critical decision making in hostile or complex environments:

- Key security factors affecting regional investment decisions
- Identifying and mitigating travel risks in unstable or insecure parts of the world
- Actionable advice and intelligence to support the deployment or movement of people and assets

We utilise intelligence combined with in-country experience to deliver well-informed and operationally relevant advice, that can be quickly updated and easily implemented.

■ Duty Of Care

Our Advisory Services satisfies your duty of care responsibilities by offering travelers access to an online information portal that provides pre-departure and in-transit security alerts.

We combine human insight with technology led solutions such as big data analysis and deep web mining. Our extensive network of deployed security consultants feedback eye witness accounts, local realtime reports and practical advice.

■ Analysts

Our team of analysts provide global coverage and have accrued experience in assessing and analysing security related events and potential threats to business continuity. They can also undertake bespoke research and analysis-based projects, produced in line with your organisations exact requirements.
